The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) Real Estate Market Advisory Group (REM) has recently released Policy Framework for Sustainable Real Estate Markets: Principles and Guidance for the Development of a Country's Real Estate Sector. The Policy Framework provides guidelines for the development of the real estate sector which minimizes the impact of the present financial crisis and promotes economic growth. This UNECE REM forum, organized by Chamber of Commerce of Naples and Borsa Immobiliare di Napoli in cooperation with Tecnoborsa, will introduce and explain the Italian version of the Policy Framework.

Several European nations, including Ukraine, Portugal, Italy and the Russian Federation, have already incorporated principles from the Policy Framework into their policymaking strategies. Speakers will also discuss the encouraging results from these initiatives.

The forum offers a discussion of the Italian legal situation, in order to make the real estate sector more efficient, competitive and more attractive to foreign investors and so contribute to the country's economic and social development.

Please give notice of participation in the forum to segreteria@binapoli.it

The official languages of the Forum are Italian and English.
